NEARLY FIFTEEN HUNDRED SCHOOL TEACHERS APPOINTED BY THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Appointment Removes Doubt of Status of Teachers, Who, Some Feared, Were Legislated Out of Office at Last Session of Congress.

The long list of teachers, comprising about 1,475 names, was yesterday submitted to the Board of Education at an executive meeting held in the Franklin School Building, by Superintendent Chancellor. The selections of the new superintendent were approved without discussion. Before submitting the list for consideration, Dr. Chancellor explained to the members of the board that he had relied principally upon the records of the applicants in making his selections.

One of the most serious questions under the new law, he said, was that touching upon the necessity of reappointing teachers already in the service. If it should prove that the act did legislate teachers out of their positions, then, he stated, his formal reappointment would

Dr. Chancellor said that he could not understand the logic that would justify the scaling of teachers' salaries for the current year. The salaries had recently been increased, and it was his presumption that it was not the intention of the law-makers to cause the instructors inconvenience by a reduction.

Captain Oyster suggested that the service cap now used at West Point and Annapolis be substituted for the one now in use by the High School Cadets.

WILL BE HARDEST EVER INAUGURATED

Campaign to Be Renewed in Course of Few Weeks.

The "trust busting" campaign of the schools and then engaged in teaching mathematics and English at the Ethical Culture School in New York. with increased vigor within a few weeks. September, which brings the Federal courts into regular session, will see renewed activity all along the line. Many of the pending cases will come up for trial early in the fall; indict-ments against alleged offenders will be sought in several judicial districts, and the Government's force of investigators will continue to seek for information on which to base prosecutions. Attorney General Moody, after a long rest up in New England, will soon be back at his desk to stay, and his coming will be the signal for a forward movement. It is assumed at the Department of Justice that his recent visit to Oyster Bay had to do with the details of the anti-trust campaign. It is now well understood that the President is determined that inis fight against the trust shall be fought to a finish. He is not making war on capital; he is insisting that the laws relating to the business of the great corporations shall be obeyed.

Biggest Campaign of History.

The anti-trust campaign under way is by far the most pretentious the Government has ever entered upon. Large torney General Moody, who must direct the fight. If he wins all along the line he will go down in history as a great Attorney General; if he should fail his administration will be remembered only because of the failure. It is well understood that Mr. Moody would like to return to private life and to the practice of his profession in Boston, but he is determined to wind up this anti-trust program before he quits the office.

Hard to Cripple Oil Trust.

The fight against the Standard Oil Company is the most important the Government is waging. Department of Justice realizes that it will meet with many obstacles. But it feels that it has "caught the company with the goods on it," and it proposes to make a heroic effort to inflict punishment. Later in the year all the evidence collected by the Bureau of Corporations, on which the legal advisers of the Government believe indictments and convictions can be secured, will be laid before the grand juries. It is the private opinion of attorneys connected with these prosecutions that if the Government cannot severely punish the Standard Oil on the evidence gathered by Commissioner Garfield it will not be worth while ever again to attempt to punish the corporation. The Department of Justice is forewarned that the trust proposes to fight, and fight hard, against any punishment being inflicted. No one identified with the present fight against the company expects to witness definite results this fall. If it is a fight to the finish, as it surely will be, it may take several years to determine the final outcome. Department of Justice realizes that

Black Splotches All Over Face -Produced Severe Itching-Year's Treatment by Physicians Did No Good and Became Despondent-Affected Parts Now Clear as Ever - Alabama Lady's

with black splotches all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoy-ance and suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of my town. After a thorough examination of the dreaded com-plaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good. Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. Shortly afterwards, my husband in reading a copy of a weekly New York paper saw an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. He purchased the en-tire outfit, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent in connection with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every splotch was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago. "The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dreadful disease, eczema, but other complicated troubles as well; and I have been the means of others being cured of the same disease by the Cuticura Remedies, and I don't hesitate in saying that the Resolvent is the best blood medicine that the world has ever known."
